

Tokyo, Japan | July 17–20, 2026

CALL FOR PAPERS

We are thrilled to announce that the 9th International Conference on Machine Learning and Machine Intelligence (MLMI 2026) will be held in Tokyo, Japan, from July 17 to 20, 2026. Organized by Rikkyo University, Japan, MLMI 2026 will bring together leading researchers, academics, and industry professionals to explore the latest advancements in machine learning and machine intelligence. The conference will feature insightful presentations, engaging discussions, and vibrant networking opportunities, all set in the culturally rich city of Tokyo.

MLMI 2026 aims to advance the field of machine learning and machine intelligence by fostering interdisciplinary collaboration and showcasing cutting-edge research. The scope of MLMI 2026 includes, but is not limited to, deep learning, reinforcement learning, natural language processing, computer vision, robotics, AI ethics, and the integration of machine intelligence in domains such as healthcare, finance, autonomous systems, and environmental sustainability. By providing a platform for knowledge exchange and collaboration, MLMI 2026 seeks to drive innovation and inspire the development of intelligent systems that benefit society.

MLMI 2026 offers a unique opportunity to engage with the latest research, connect with global experts, and contribute to the future of machine intelligence. We invite you to join us for four days of learning and networking. You are guaranteed to leave the event with a suitcase full of knowledge and inspiration.

RIKKYO UNIVERSITY, JAPAN

Rikkyo University (立教大学, Rikkyō daigaku), also known as Saint Paul's University, is a private university, in Ikebukuro, Tokyo, Japan.

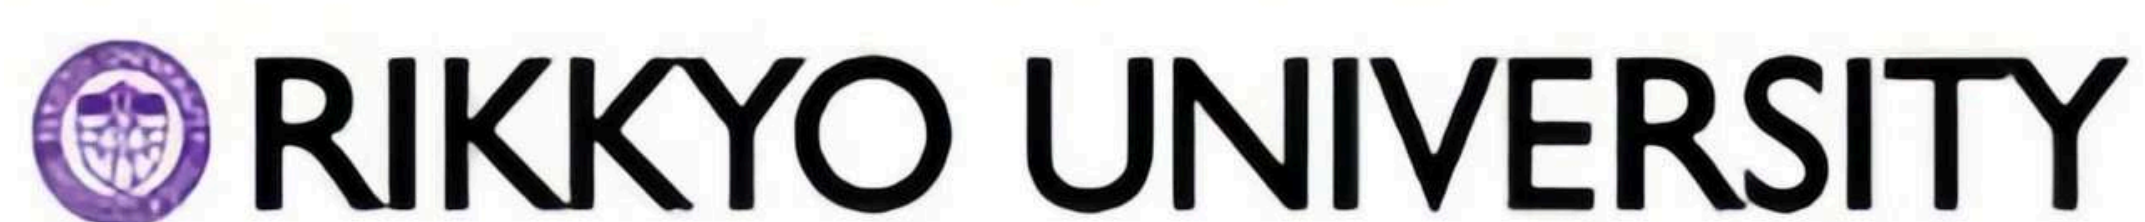

Rikkyo is one of the five MARCH universities, the group of private universities in the Kanto region, together with Meiji, Aoyama Gakuin, Chuo, and Hosei. Rikkyo is known as one of the six leading universities in the field of sports in Tokyo (東京六大学 "Big Six" — Rikkyo University, University of Tokyo, Keio University, Waseda University, Meiji University, and Hosei University).

The university is the largest Anglican Christian affiliated university in Japan. The university is involved in numerous international programmes and projects. Rikkyo maintains contact with more than 140 educational institutions abroad for the purpose of exchanging lecturers, students and projects. With more than 700 students from outside Japan, the institution has 20,000 students, and 2,700 teachers and staff members.

CALL FOR PAPERS

Track 1: Deep Learning and Neural Architectures
Neural Architecture Search
Generative Models
Transfer Learning

Track 2: Reinforcement Learning and Sequential Decision Making
Multi-Agent Reinforcement Learning
Time Series and Sequential Data
Real-Time AI Systems

Track 3: Applied Machine Intelligence
Machine Learning in Healthcare
AI in Robotics
Biometric and Behavioral Analytics

Track 4: Natural Language Processing and Multimodal Learning
Large Language Models
Multilingual and Low-Resource NLP
Cross-Modal Retrieval and Generation

Track 5: Emerging Paradigms and Future Directions
Quantum Machine Learning
Federated and Distributed Learning
AutoML and Meta-Learning

Track 6: Explainable, Ethical, and Human-Centered AI
Explainable AI (XAI)
Ethical AI and Fairness
Privacy-Preserving Machine Learning

SUBMISSION GUIDELINE

- Submission Requirements

Language: English is the official language of the conference; the paper should be written and presented only in English.

Paper Length: Each full paper should be no less than 8 pages in one-column format, including all figures, tables, and references.

- Submission Types

* Abstract submission for presentation only without publication.

* Full paper submission for both presentation and publication.

- Submission Process

1) Download the Paper Template for formatting your paper.

2) Submit your paper to Online Submission System or mlmi_contact@163.com.

3) The conference secretary (mlmi_contact@163.com) will contact you within three working days once receiving your submission.

IMPORTANT DATES

Submission Deadline: February 5, 2026

Notification Deadline: March 5, 2026

Registration Deadline: March 20, 2026
